

Will the blackmailer come back? And how can they be stopped permanently?

Blackmailer's goals:

They range from demanding money, sexual favors, or exploiting influence or power.

How to Deal with a Blackmailer

Stop all communication with the blackmailer

Stay calm and control your emotions

Close digital access points

Report the blackmail

The Blackmailer's Intentions:

- It is unlikely that a blackmailer will forget their victim as long as they possess content that can be exploited.
- Responding to the blackmailer's demands often increases their greed and exposes the victim to further threats.
- Ignoring the blackmailer and seeking intervention from legal authorities is the most effective way to put an end to the situation.

